Profile

- Committed and well-networked climate vulnerability, adaptation and disaster risk reduction technical specialist with postgraduate qualifications (PhD) and international scientific credentials (IPCC author for the fourth and fifth assessment reports)
- Accustomed to integrating climate change and disaster risk reduction into development policies and frameworks at a national and sub-national level (both through direct technical assistance and writing guidebooks and toolkits for international organisations)
- Experienced in the design and delivery of awareness raising, training and capacity building as appropriate to different audiences (using face-to-face methods, virtual training through ICTs, producing guidebooks and indicators, and supporting resources for reference)
- Extensive knowledge of, and experience with, the institutional frameworks (governance structures and policy frameworks) relating to adaptation in many African countries
- Accustomed to facilitating dialogue and establishing outcome-based partnerships between a wide variety of actors (donors, UN agencies, governments and civil society, including consultation at the grassroots level) in different contexts

Education

2004-07 PhD Environmental Sciences

Tyndall Centre for Climate Change Research and School of Environmental Sciences, University of East Anglia, UK.

Thesis topic: Gendered vulnerability to climate change in South Africa
UK Economic and Social Research Council-funded (1+3, £50,800)

2002-03 MRes Environmental Science Research (Distinction)

University of East Anglia, UK.

Thesis topic: Indicators of social vulnerability to climate change for Africa

1997-00 BA (Hons) Geography (First class)

University of Oxford, UK.

Thesis topic: Fishing and coastal sustainability in Southeast Sulawesi

Country Experience

South Africa, Swaziland, Lesotho, Malawi, Zambia, Mozambique, Zimbabwe, Madagascar, Kenya, Ghana, Namibia, Tanzania, Uganda, Morocco, Senegal, Indonesia, UK.

Work Experience-Long Term Positions

2010 Director Kulima Integrated Development Solutions (Pty) Ltd

Ongoing projects include:

- Assessing the sustainability of a food security/disaster risk reduction intervention to distribute early maturing seeds in Madagascar, Malawi and Mozambique (funded by the EU, implemented by FAO and partner NGOs).
- Assessing farmers' responses to climate variability and the likely impacts of climate change on agriculture in five southern African countries (Malawi, Mozambique, South Africa, Zambia, Zimbabwe)(funded by Oxfam GB, in collaboration with CSAG).
- Producing a SADC Risk and Vulnerability Atlas, including downscaled climate projections and user group workshops to determine the most appropriate means of communicating climate risk information (funded by USAID, in collaboration with CSIR).
- Quantifying vulnerability of the Limpopo basin, Mozambique, to climate change, and identifying climate-proofing development strategies (funded by UNEP-INGC, in collaboration with the University of Cape Town and CSIR, South Africa).
- Maintaining the "human use of weather and climate" section of the South African Risk and Vulnerability Atlas spatial data portal (www.rvatlas.org)
- For completed short-term assignments, see the short-term consultancy section.

- 2005-10 Social protection consultant and Training coordinator, Regional Hunger and Vulnerability Programme (RHVP), DFID-funded
- Manager of one of three programme components, involved in writing the proposal, recruitment and day-to-day management of staff and consultants, and meeting DFID reporting and budgeting guidelines.
 - Involved in research and policy advice on social protection for reducing vulnerability to poverty and food insecurity, specialising in delivery systems for social transfers in southern Africa.
 - Organised ministerial-level meetings and various other stakeholder consultations (including UN agencies, government, research institutions and civil society).
 - Initiated an international Network of Expert Resources on Delivery Systems (NERDS) to exchange best practice on delivery systems for social protection using up-to-date ICTs.
 - Undertook feasibility studies and consultancy projects in Swaziland, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, and Zimbabwe and provided technical assistance to the government of Swaziland for introducing innovative delivery mechanisms for their Old Age Grant.
 - Took particular responsibility for effectively communicating research findings to different audiences: including directing the filming and editing of a series of short documentaries profiling social transfer schemes across southern Africa; and disseminating findings of the Regional Evidence Building Agenda (REBA) through RHVP-participation on external training courses (run by EPRI, CARE International, and various southern African government departments).
 - Collaborated with SADC and national Vulnerability Assessment Committees to design and implement a training curriculum on hunger and vulnerability assessment methodologies and responses housed in various institutions across southern Africa.
- 2009-10 Consultant in South Africa, United Nations Environment Programme, Regional Office for Africa (Nairobi)
- Assigned to represent UNEP in South Africa in advance of the recruitment of a full time environment coordinator; with primary responsibility for liaising with government staff to identify opportunities for UNEP support to South Africa (to be concretised in the next UN Development Assistance Framework).
 - Represented UNEP in various other clusters and task teams, including the Regional Inter-Agency Support Coordination Office for humanitarian response, the FIFA World Cup task team, and country gender consultation.
 - Provided country- and region-specific technical advice on climate change issues to other UN agencies on demand.
- 2007-08 Post-doctoral fellowship, School of Geography, Archaeology and Environmental Studies, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg
- Designed and carried out research into the institutional dimensions of responses to climate change and its effects on vulnerability and food security in southern Africa.
 - Designed and delivered a second year undergraduate course in global environmental governance.
 - Taught research methods and climate change science and policy to undergraduates.
 - Supervised and examined postgraduate research in the field of human dimensions of global environmental change and disaster risk reduction.
 - Co-designed and facilitated a short professional training course (South Africa NQF Level 5-rated) on vulnerability risk assessment and disaster risk reduction (still ongoing twice yearly through Wits Commercial Enterprise).
- 2004-05 PhD fieldwork, South Africa (Limpopo province)

- Designed and carried out research investigating rural livelihoods, institutional change and vulnerability to climate change using mixed-method qualitative and quantitative social science techniques.
- Interacted with a wide variety of stakeholders (academic, governmental, non-governmental) concerned with environment and development issues.
- Undertook policy analysis on frameworks concerned with climate change, agriculture, water, gender and social protection.

2001-02 Intern and Consultant, United Nations Environment Programme, Geneva

- Project manager of the UN Pioneers in Responsible Enterprise Project (PREP), aimed at consolidating CSR portfolios; researching the potential for, and implications of, the service economy; and creating policy guidelines to “level the playing field” and promote sustainable corporate activities.
- Assisted with finalising a UN policy document on sustainable consumption.
- Forged links with key stakeholders in CEE countries to facilitate a pan-European dialogue on sustainable consumption opportunities for Europe (SCOPE).

2001 Policy adviser, Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, London

- Involved in following through the EU directive on public participation (under the UNECE Aarhus Convention) from the Commission proposal.
- Researched existing access to justice in the UK and the potential role of an environment court.
